

Microsoft Outlook

From: Wagner, Anthony R.
Sent: Tuesday, June 21, 2011 5:08 PM
To: Liebman, Wilma B.; Solomon, Lafe E.; Cleeland, Nancy; Schiff, Robert; Colwell, John F.; Garza, Jose
Subject: Social media trends

Most of the coverage today was, of course, related to the proposed rule. A selection of various blog postings and articles:

- Daily Kos: NLRB proposes union representation election reform
<http://www.dailykos.com/story/2011/06/21/987246/-NLRB-proposes-union-representation-election-reform>
- Wall Street Journal: Labor Board to Speed Up Union Elections
<http://online.wsj.com/article/SB10001424052702304070104576399822234404508.html>
- CNN Money: New rule would speed up union votes http://money.cnn.com/2011/06/21/news/economy/union_rules/?section=money_latest
- New York Times: N.L.R.B. Rules Would Streamline Unionizing
<http://www.nytimes.com/2011/06/22/business/22labor.html>
- Center for American Progress: No More Lucy Pulling the Football Away: National Labor Relations Board Gets It Right on Union Elections
http://www.americanprogress.org/issues/2011/06/nlr_b_elections.html
- Washington Post Plum Line Blog: The next big labor brawl
http://www.washingtonpost.com/blogs/plum-line/post/the-next-big-labor-brawl/2011/03/03/AGer5ieH_blog.html

For Boeing, the only two stories making the rounds were regarding yesterday's order to grant limited intervenor status to three SC employees, and an ethics complaint that was filed against Sen Graham:

- On the Graham story: http://www.washingtonpost.com/politics/union-representing-boeing-workers-files-ethics-complaint-against-gop-sen-lindsay-graham/2011/06/21/AGwnQkeH_story.html

Tony Wagner
New Media Specialist | Office of Public Affairs
National Labor Relations Board (NLRB)
1099 14th Street NW, Suite 11550 | Washington, DC 20570
anthony.wagner@nlrb.gov | 202-273-0187 | cell: 202-375-9791
nlrb.gov | m.nlr.gov | facebook.com/NLRBpage | @nlrb